curious directive is a Norwich-based, internationally renowned devising theatre company.

curious directive returns, using their trademark mesmeric devised-theatre storytelling.

*The endless Norfolk skies.
The sweeping arable fields, scattered with flint.
The salt marshes, full of strangely coloured silt.*

*In the farmhouse, a family struggle with succession.
In the shed, lambing season is in full swing.
In the village church, a secret love is blooming.
In the front seats of a rusty transit van, a brutal revenge is plotted.*

About curious directive:

curious directive is an internationally touring, multi-award winning theatre company.

Our work starts on Elm Hill in Norwich. Since 2008, 11 major productions have been presented in 130+ venues, to 250,000 audience members worldwide.

BLACK SHEEP was originally conceived as part of a Science Club in 2022 and premieres in our making space, on Elm Hill, Norwich.
