

LOWRY'S SCRATCH NIGHTS X LIVE COMEDY THURSDAY 19 MARCH 2026

CALL-OUT FOR ARTISTS TO SHARE NEW WORK! DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: THURSDAY 04 DECEMBER 2025, 5PM

We are pleased to announce our next call-out for comedians and comedy performance makers to share new work on:

Thursday 19 March 2026 at Lowry.

This edition of Scratch Nights will be curated in collaboration with artists Aarian Mehrabani (Developed With 2024-26) and Edy Hurst (Developed With 2022-24)

SCRATCH NIGHTS AT LOWRY

Our Scratch Nights offer an evening dedicated to the development of brand-new work.

- A chance for artists to put early ideas in front of a live, supportive audience to see what sticks.
- It's about now rather than never
- It's about the spit without the polish
- Testing early ideas that may one day turn into fully formed pieces.

These informal nights bring new work to audiences and create a supportive platform for artists to:

- Experiment
- Take risks
- Test ideas on stage
- Share new work with peers and wider public.

We're now inviting stand-ups, sketch performers, character and physical comedians, clowns, musical comedy acts, and theatre-makers working with comedy — as well as collectives or companies developing new ideas — to submit proposals.

This is an open callout for artists based anywhere in the UK, and we strongly encourage artists based in Greater Manchester and the North to apply.

We have a pot of funds that will be distributed across four to eight selected proposals

THERE ARE THREE DIFFERENT OPPORTUNITIES TO APPLY FOR:

- OPPORTUNITY ONE: 5–10 MINS

For performers who want to test new material or experiment with existing work.

This slot is ideal for artists who are trying comedy for the first time, or those with a set they haven't yet shared widely or professionally recorded. It's a chance to perform in front of an audience, get feedback, and explore your material in a supportive setting.

Note: Material should be new and not previously recorded or broadcast.

- OPPORTUNITY TWO: 5–15 MINS

For performers with a brand-new concept or idea that has never been performed. This is a chance to develop a fresh idea into a live performance, with the support of a theatrical studio space and technical setup. Bring sketches, characters, songs, or any bold comedic experiment you haven't explored in a live comedy context before.

Note: Material must be new and unperformed. This slot is for artists eager to experiment and test new ideas on stage.

- OPPORTUNITY THREE: 15-20 MIN

For comedians and comedy performance makers with a more established practice who want to test new ideas in front of a studio theatre audience. While the work could later form part of a larger show, for this event it should be completely new. Drawing on your existing experience to take risks, experiment, and explore ideas that could develop into future performances.

Note: Your proposal should present a new idea or work-in-progress piece that has not been previously performed for a public audience.

SELECTED ARTISTS WILL RECEIVE:

- A fee of £250 (Opportunity One), £500 (Opportunity Two) or £1000 (Opportunity Three) to develop and present your idea
- Rehearsal space at Lowry where possible
- Producer support from Lowry Staff
- An online mentoring session in advance of the event with Aarian Mehrabani and Edy Hurst
- A set of production images and video archive footage taken by a professional photographer and videographer
- Anonymous feedback from audiences in response to the questions you want answered about your work
- If required, extra financial support will be made available as a contribution towards access costs. We will discuss what you need if you are selected.

SCRATCH NIGHTS GUIDELINES:

- Please see the three opportunities for details on the different guidelines. We're also only able to accommodate basic technical requirements.
- Please only submit one application as the Main Performer/Writer/Lead Artist. You can be named as a collaborator on other applications.
